The fall 2015 semester has officially started and we are so excited to have the MEBUS house filled once again with our talented students! Teresa Samaras

MEBUS recently traveled with 20 students to London, England for our second Study Abroad trip. It was a jam packed two weeks of site seeing and meeting some of London's most influential music and entertainment industry executives. From Parliament, Royal Albert Hall, Liverpool, site visits to BMI London and Sony Music we just about saw it all!

We are currently finalizing plans for our London 2016 trip so if interested make sure to save the date for the upcoming Study Abroad Fair on September 29th!

There is a specific moment that every college student faces when graduation is upon him or her, a time of panic and fear of the unknown. Has the education I received in college prepared me for the real world? What happens if I don't get a job before or right after graduation? Will all of my hard work really pay off? Recent Kennesaw State University Alum, Teresa Samaras, asked herself all those questions and more during her final semester here at KSU. Teresa researched and interviewed for many positions prior to graduation, but did not find the right position that best fit with her values and Bachelor of Business Administration in Marketing degree. With the help of her experiences and connections through the Joel A. Katz Music and Entertainment Business Program (MEBUS) she found a career she never could have dreamed of!

When Teresa first became interested in the MEBUS program and found what it has to offer, she decided to follow her passion and pursue a career in music & entertainment business. The 24-credit hour certificate program teaches the business side of both the music and entertainment industry by providing students with the knowledge, connections, and real-world experience needed.

MEBUS Student Releases Sophomore EP

About about a month ago, Cody Oliver and fans celebrated the release of his second EP called "LOVE AND POISON" at the Atlanta Hard Rock Café. Since the album’s release on August 22nd, Cody’s EP debuted at #4 on the Art of the Mix New Release Pop chart and is now available on iTunes! Congrats Cody!

Video Production Workshop

Don't miss the second to succeed. Each semester students are required to complete an internship so they will have worked with at least three different entertainment companies by the time they graduate. As a MEBUS student, Teresa was placed in internships through the program with companies such as BET Networks, Sixthman and Allied Integrated Marketing while also closely working with Ed Roland & The Sweet Tea Project, Grassroots Entertainment and PlayPro Media. Teresa says these internships are what took her college learning to a higher level by teaching her how to retain the course material and apply it to real life. "I started to get much more out of my day-to-day college experience at Kennesaw State and this is something I truly could never repay the MEBUS program for."

One of the biggest highlights of Teresa's time at MEBUS was the senior capstone project with Sixthman. The Atlanta-based company produces music festivals on cruise ships and the student's assignment is to create a marketing plan, onboard activities and potential artist bookings for one of the upcoming cruise ship festivals. Students work all semester on these marketing plans and present their ideas to Sixthman executives at the end of the semester. The executives decide on the team who had the most creative and authentic ideas to win a free Sixthman cruise of their choice. Although Teresa's team did not win this was still "an unbelievable opportunity for a college class and one that I will never forget," she says.

After graduating Magna Cum Laude from Kennesaw State University in July of 2014 with an impressive resume, Teresa was still looking for the perfect career opportunity. She reached out to MEBUS Director, Keith Perissi, shortly after graduation seeking career advice. After a few months of interviewing and networking, Teresa's hard work and persistence paid off. Greenberg Traurig, one of the largest law firms in the world, offered Teresa a full-time position in their Miami, Florida office. It just so happens that the MEBUS Program's namesake and main donor, Joel A. Katz is

MEBUS Breakout Panel:
New Opportunities in Entertainment Communication
7:00pm & 8:00pm
Room: SO 3030

Paul Jenkins - Digital & Interactive Technologies,
Chair of Global Entertainment and Media Practice at Greenberg Traurig. Katz is one of the largest entertainment lawyers in the country. Billboard Magazine's number-one-ranked entertainment attorney, has been called "the dealmaker who thinks outside of the box." Katz' clientele represents a long list of celebrities and organizations too long to list. Some of his celebrity clientele include Jimmy Buffett, Kenny Chesney, Justin Timberlake, the Michael Jackson Estate, the CMA's, GRAMMY'S and many more.

Teresa packed up her things and moved to Miami shortly after accepting the position and is now working as the Litigation Practice Development Coordinator. She assists with the, "preparation of client-facing and internal marketing materials, as well as the coordination of practice group events, sponsorships, advertisements and speaking engagements." One of the biggest things Teresa learned in the MEBUS program that has helped her excel in her new job is the ability to multitask. Through the internships she worked while in the program Teresa mastered the craft of time management. After honing her skills she is now comfortable balancing multiple projects and simultaneous deadlines needed to be successful at her job.

Some advice that Teresa would give to any current student would be to work hard and strive to better yourself every day. To always stay ethical and not be afraid to try new things. Most importantly, she says, "Remember that success does not come without challenges. It is about how you handle yourself and learn from those challenges that continuously move you forward in life."
